PLAT FORM 2

With more than 2.1 million students on 114 campuses, the California Community College system is one of the largest in higher education in the United States. Southern California boasts a particularly strong community of architecture and interior architecture programs; PLATFORM 2 highlights the work of community college students to showcase ideas on design, education and art. As a space to connect, the exhibition includes work from over eight community colleges through drawings, models, mockups, and photographs.
