INTERIOR DESIGN: A POWERFUL PROGRAM IN A POWERFUL SCHOOL

The Woodbury University School of Architecture is widely recognized as one of the best and most affordable creative schools in the country – and for good reason. Not only do we offer numerous nationally ranked programs at an approachable price point, but our accomplished faculty, alumni, and students routinely garner top-tier academic and professional awards and distinctions.

The most recent example: A Woodbury BArch Program student and faculty cohort is currently competing in the 2023 Solar Decathlon, a worldwide collegiate challenge to design and build zero-energy buildings, and it was recently named one of only 14 Build Challenge finalists across the globe. Not only does this project demonstrate the guiding principle spanning all programs across the Architecture school – meaningful designs for the built environment – but it also underscores the value that we as a university place on STEM initiatives, environmental stewardship, and interdisciplinary learning.
